Twin Rivers Fall International

James Alliston & Calaro

September 22, 2021: Paso Robles, California. The Twin Rivers Fall International Three Day Event is poised to host a full slate of familiar and new eventing competition September 23-26. International competition at the CCI2*, 3* and 4* levels, short format, returns to this fixture of the West Coast fall circuit.

Fresh from the Tokyo Olympics and Team USA silver at the Aachen CHIO, Tamie Smith has two up-and-coming stars entered in the CCI4*-S. Top contenders Andrea Baxter and James Alliston are also in the hunt at this highest level of competition. All divisions are filled with the West's best horses and riders out to test their mettle and advance their skills on Twin Rivers' trusted turf of excellent facilities and expert management that maintains a welcoming family feel.

New on the agenda is the 2021 Adequan/USEF Eventing Youth Team Challenge Paso Robles. The 2021 Adequan/USEF Eventing Youth Team Challenge evolved from the eventing division of the North American Youth Championships. The Challenge offers opportunities for eventing athletes 14-25 to gain valuable experience in a team competition environment representing USEA Areas at the FEI CCI 1/2/3* levels nationally and at the 2/3* levels at Twin Rivers. Young riders from throughout the region will face-off in this final leg of the West Coast before the region's championship at Galway Downs International in November.

Young Horse Excitement

Returning are qualifiers for the increasingly popular USEA Future Event Horse and USEA Dutta Corp Young Event Horse Championships. The West Coast Championships for the Future and Young Event Horse divisions comes to Twin Rivers Oct. 29-30. Excellent participation in the debut of this combined championships last year bodes well for even bigger attendance this year.

All of the events take place at the Baxter family's ever-evolving Twin Rivers Ranch, on 500 beautiful acres in Central Coastal California's Paso Robles. Their mission with the venue was to stage highest-caliber international equestrian competition and they are delivering in a big way. The inaugural Twin Rivers CCI4*-L this past April saw those early visions realized and then some with top-flight competition and memorable moments like the presentation of the inaugural McKinlaigh Cup to CCI4*-L winner Amber Levine.
